John Phillip Sousa Dead

John Phillip Sousa, famous United States composer and band leader, succumbed to a heart attack on Sunday at the age of 77. Death came to the "March King" at Reading, Pa., a few hours after he had led a local band through a rehearsal.

Hospital Issue Voted on by Dinton M. D.

The vote in the Municipal District of Dinton on the question of withdrawal from High River Municipal hospital, taken township by township, resulted in four townships in favor of remaining with the hospital district and four voting in favor of withdrawal. Those in favor of withdrawal were remote from High River and adjacent to the Vulcan-Carlsbad highway. The four townships voting to remain being located convenient to High River.

In the election for councillors which took place the same day, Sam Browne, former M.L.A., was elected over N. McAllister, in Division One, J. Green led A. Tharle by one vote. He was declared elected, but owing to irregularities at the poll Mr. Green resigned, and a new election will be necessary.

In Division 5, W. B. Scott and H. C. Mainland contested, with Scott leading, but poll was protested.

"Clubbing a Husband" to be Presented by the Ladies' Guild

"Clubbing a Husband" will be presented in the Arrowwood School on Friday, March 18th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild. Interspersed through the program will be dancing by the pupils of Miss Mackie and Miss MacLeod, vocal solos by Miss Mackie and Mr. E. Larson, instrumental selections by the High School Orchestra and the Gilbert Orchestra. Following is an outline of the story:

The visit of Mrs. Henrietta Ashton of Vancouver and her big little daughter Maud to her newly-married sister, Mrs. Blanche Newman, of a small village, being opportunely timed with the very first appearance of discord in the brides wedded bliss, threatens to work disaster in all the domestic affairs of the neighborhood. Ten different women air their troubles, and at the instigation of Mrs. Ashton, with her suffragette theories, decide to club together under the independent slogan "Down with the men!" Mrs. Newman's colored cook and her Irish wash-lady, Bridget O'Flanagan, contribute their share to the general disturbance, and Dr. Jordan the "doctor-lady," is most emphatic in her declaration of feminine independence.

Meeting at the office of Dr. Jordan for the final organization, however, the rumor of one husband's sudden illness strikes terror to every one, who beneath the surface is really loyal to the earlier ideas of wifehood and motherhood; while two letters, one commanding Mrs. Ashton's immediate return to her husband, and the other proposing marriage to the man-hating Dr. Jordan breaks up the whole affair in wonderfully short order, while all unite in declaring that "When you're tired and hungry or want your husband, the home's the thing!"

U.F.W.A. Meets at the Home of Mrs. Dwight Richards

Mrs. D. Richards was hostess and Mrs. R. Shatto and Mrs. Gaylen Jones assisted at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the U. F. W. A. held on Wednesday afternoon. The attendance was somewhat smaller than usual owing, no doubt, to the cold weather. The business at this meeting was light on account of the poor attendance. The program was discussed and refreshments were served.

U.F.W.A. Annual Party at M. Ward's

The U.F.W.A. held their annual party on February 29th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ward. It was carried out in the form of a Leap Year party. About sixty sat down to a chicken supper after which the tables were cleared away. A description was read of every man present and Mrs. Ward auctioneered them off, the ladies buying them for partners. The bidding was slow at first but ladies grew more courageous as the bidding went on and every man was sold, prices ranging from $3.00 to $20.00.

The ladies then took the men they had bought for partners in a contest, the winners being Mrs. E. Lewendon and Mr. R. Shouldice. Everyone then joined in a community sing-song.

To finish up the evening a skit was put on by seven of the ladies called "Oh Those Husbands of Ours." The ladies in the east were:

R. F. Williams
Mrs. M. R. Leonard,
Mrs. Lewendon
Mrs. F. E. Bell,
Mrs. J. Mackie, Sr.
Mrs. M. Henry,
Mrs. H. Brown.

Great fun and laughter was derived from this skit as the ladies had prepared jokes on nearly all the men present which proved very amusing.

The party broke up in the wee sma' hours of the morning, everyone feeling they had had a good time.

Arrowwood U.F.A. Oil Pool Declares 15% Dividend

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the U. F. A. Purchasing Pool No. 2 held last Saturday, March 5, 1932, a dividend of $3.00 was declared on each $10.00 share subscribed for at the formation of the Pool two years ago. This is at the rate of 15% per annum or $1.50 on each share per year. This is considered a very satisfactory return during such depressed times and argues well for the future of this local enterprise.

Shouldice News

Don't forget the dance on the 11th inst—another special treat.

On Feb. 17th Mrs. Weberg entertained her friends at bridge. All those who were invited were present except Mr. M. T. Edwards, who was unavoidably absent due to sickness. Mr. Raubellke won the gentleman's prize and Mrs. Watwood the ladies' prize.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Weberg, and all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

How Shall It End?

Our other article was scarcely signed when news came that the people across the border were taking active steps to bring peace between Japan and China. When the League of Nations was formed one of the powers given it was the enforcement of the economic boycott. So far it has not been used. And the movement in the United States comes not from official circles. But one of its leaders is Lamonte of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. The idea is to boycott the buying of Japanese produced goods by creating sentiment against their action. But it partakes of the nature of force rather than sacrifice.

But greater than the form in which the people of England—Maude Royden's Crusade—and United States have expressed themselves is the fact that they have stepped in, and the issue seems to be, not the right or wrong of the dispute, it is neither against Japan or China as such, but against war itself. For example one must be very blind, indeed, if he cannot see the difference between boycotting Japanese goods in the United States and people of Canada refusing to use German made articles during the Great War. In the former case it is a matter of Ralph Connor's third party intervening. During other such wars, especially in the East, there was no such attention given them even when property and citizens were molested. And the interest of people the world over is becoming too prominent to suit those who have something at stake in promoting the war spirit. Could the Lindberg excitement be an effort to divert attention? The papers are certainly featuring it and all too many of our citizens are falling for it. No doubt the Lindberg baby is as dear to his parents as any other child. But there are many of our readers who have children just as dear who are not kept safely to be redeemed by a payable sum of money, but who are taken from us by carelessness, accident or spread of disease. And out there are thousands of mother's babies, clad in a military uniform, unredeemable cannon-fodder.

And the League of Nations is in the balance. Has its will been set aside and in the end will it fail? This is a serious question. But certain definite gains have been made. Where the Hague Court only provided a panel of judges to which the nations might appeal, the League has been strong enough to step in. At first the intervention was ignored but twice hostilities have ceased to see if a settlement could not be arranged. And so far she has not ordered any definite action such as the Peace Crusade or the boycott. And frankly we think that it is much better for these attempts to come from the different peoples than from the League itself and if action is necessary then let the League simply sanction what others have initiated.

But one warning needs to be emphasized. Should the League be successful, the battle is not won. This may well be only a skirmish and the real battle doubly enforced, be ahead. We in Canada passed a prohibition bill and then fell comfortably asleep. And we are paying for it. And the abolition of War is a struggle for a century. It cannot be blotted out in a single issue but like all other achievements of life—

Eternal vigilance is the price of success.

Why Isolate?

Man is the reservoir of the disease germs which affect him. Disease germs do not grow in nature outside of the human or animal body, and most of them die fairly soon after leaving the body.

Disease germs leave the body which harbours them in its secretions or excretions. It is the transference of the germ-laden secretion, occurring usually in a fairly direct manner, which accounts for the spread of the diseases which are caused by germs.

In order that the spread may be prevented, every effort should be made to control the transfer of secretions from the sick to the well. It is for this reason that the sick person is isolated or separated from his fellows. Isolation does not do the sick person any good; it is carried out for the protection of those who are well.

One way to isolate is by removal of the case to an isolation hospital, and where isolation at home is not practicable, this should be done. Many cases can, however, be quite satisfactorily cared for at home, provided proper precaution are taken.

The patient must have a separate room. If a nurse is not engaged, the care of the patient should be undertaken by some one member of the family. A gown, or overall, for the attendant is kept just inside the room. This gown is put on by the attendant when entering the sick-room, and taken off when leaving the room.

The importance of adequate scrubbing cannot be over-estimated. After attending the patient, and before leaving the room, the hands and fore-arms should be thoroughly scrubbed, for at least two minutes, with a nail brush in soap and water, and then rinsed in an antiseptic solution.

Dishes used by the patient are placed in a pan of water and boiled, or are washed and kept in the patient's room. Any food from the patient's room is burned.

All clothing, towels, etc., from the patient's room are actually boiled, or are soaked in an antiseptic solution for one hour.

All discharges from the nose and mouth should be destroyed by burning, or should be mixed with an antiseptic. In such diseases as typhoid fever, the excreta must be mixed with an antiseptic.

The person who is caring for the patient should take the precautions mentioned, and should not have anything to do with the preparation of food in the home.

Home isolation is satisfactory provided the attendant takes such care as is outlined above, that other members of the household or family are kept out of the room, and that care is maintained until the danger of spread is passed, and that such care is not relaxed too soon, simply because the patient feels well.

John Deere-Van Brunt Pony Press Grain Drill

Furnished with Pulverizer-Packer
—or Tongue Truck

Here is the new John Deere-Van Brunt seeding outfit that is making it possible for one man to do a once-over job of plowing, pulverizing, seeding and covering. It is built to do a good seeding job while working directly behind your John Deere three-bottom tractor plow.

The complete outfit consists of the well-known John Deere-Van Brunt Low Down Press Drill and a special pulverizer-packer attachment which runs ahead of the drill, crushing the lumps and removing air spaces just before the seed is deposited.

The pulverizer-packer attachment takes the place of the regular tongue truck on the John Deere-Van Brunt Pony Press Drill. It is either furnished as an extra, or as a part of the complete machine.

You can turn short corners with this outfit; pulverizer and drill always follow plow. There is very little side-draft and no added weight on the plow beams as hitch is made direct to plow hitch instead of to main body of plow. The drill is controlled from the seat of the tractor; the gear throw-out attachment permits the driver to throw the drill in or out of gear by simply pulling the rope attached to it.

The drill is built strong, to give long, dependable service. Has the same Adjustable Patented Gate Force-Feeds and other features which identify John Deere-Van Brunt drills and insure satisfaction to the user.

We recommend this outfit when it is advisable to plow and seed at the same time.

Come in and get further details.

In 1930 the Canadian Pacific Railway paid out in taxes in Canada $7,447,805 and for the year 1931 its taxes will run to over $7,500,000. This brings the company's total tax payments in Canada from its inception to date to more than $121,000,000.

Nova Scotia is coming into its own as a holiday province. In 1931 more than a quarter of a million tourists visited the province, the largest number of summer visitors in its history, according to records by Hon. P. C. Black, provincial Minister of Highways.

To have joined the Canadian Pacific Railway at the time of its organization in 1931 and in the last six years to have advanced more than 100 per cent in salary is a record. This is the record of Mr. J. W. Neil, of Toronto, who has just retired from the position of chief transmitter for the Pacific Power department at Montreal.
